Lessons from Miracle at Nain.
One of the blessed suggestions of the miracle is the arrival of Christ just at that time.
Our life is like a game of anagrams, in which the letters of words are thrown into a jumble. Only Got knows how to arrange them, and spen out the meaning for us.

Public Warning.

God wants worded prayers, but often, as at Nain. He answers the silent petitions of our griefs, our needs, our desires. (isa, 65:24).
What Christ said to the mourning MENT fails to cure in 6 to 15 days. 50c and poor old John punched himself spot when Sullivan wanted to hit him, and poor old John punched himself tired-at nothing. That was the first of the modern changes. The gladiator, the stolid man of muscle, gave way to the shifty man, with the fair punch, don't think anyone will call me if I say that I couldn't be expected to see it. I was working along easy, with the belief that I could trim any applicant that showed up, but I thought the couldn't know that a young buil was going to come out of the west, who moved pretty fast and who weighed 60 pounds more than I did, and who had been trained by the foxiest trainer in the business. I didn't think that an elephant—beg pardon, Jim—could move quick, but I found it out at Coney Island and in just 11 rounds the ele-phant—pardon again, Jim—had put me gloves on now.

When a fellow looks back that way he sees a few changes that set him thinking. I don't know how long it is since men and the lads that put the away. I say now, just as I said then, that Jeffries was and is an accident. You don't look for many men of his kind in a century. I claim to know Jim Jeffries abou a fellow didn't go into it unless he could stand the gaff. As the years went on I believe some attention was paid to guards and blows of a different order, but it wasn't until well along into the fifties of last century that the modern fighter began to sit up and take notice.
